AFFAIRS IN BROOKLYN.

"BOSS" M'LAUGHLIN DID IT ALL. ON HIM RESTS THE RE PONSIBILITY FOR THE THREATENED WATER FAMINE. The whole responsibility for the threatened water famine can be placed upon the shoulders of "Boss" McLaughlin. The extent to which he controls the political machinery of the city was revealed by the Democratic "ring" crgan, which said yesterday that the Aldermen failed to act in providing increased pumping facilities for the water works system until forced to do so by "the intervention of ex-Register Hugh McLaughlin and that before the Aldermen acted "the members of the water and drainage con mittee received an intimation from Mr. McLaughlin that they would be held responsible for further delay in the matter." Each a declaration is regarded as significant in view of the fact that Mayor Boody and City Works Commissioner Adams tried for months t secure action by the Aldermen, calling special meet-ings in the summer for the purpose; but all their efforts were unavailing. A single word from Mc Laughlin, however, brought about the requisite action The amount of water pumped on Tuesday was about 3,500,000 gallons more than the quantity used. On Monday 5,000,000 gallons were used in excess of the quantity pumped. The breakt in the water main at Milburn is forty-eight feet long. Four of the sections. which are twelve feet long and four feet in diameter, have been broken. It is thought that the repairs can be made by to morrow.

THE REPUBLICAN CLUB INCORPORATED. The Brooklyn Republican Club has been incor porated by Franklin Woodruff, George E. Brainerd, R. L. Elling, Charles Talcott, A. N. Lewis and G. H. Roberts. The objects in the certificate of incorpora-tion are: "To promote good government, local, State and National; to cultivate social intercourse; to urge the people to a higher appreciation of the rights and obligations of citizenship; to maintain unconditional loyalty to the Federal Government and obtain just and equal representation of all our people and uphold the integrity of the ballot and the purity of elections. To advocate sound political principles to elevate the standard of political merality; to expose corruption, promote economy in public expendi-tures, urge public measures for the general good, and advance the welfare of the Republican party." The directors are R. Ross Appleton, Thomas H. Wagstaf, jr., Norman S. Bentley, Theodore B. Willis. Denis M. Hurley, John W. Chapman, Joseph Benjamin, William H. Beard, William W. Goodrich, Edward H. Hobbs, William O. Platt, William H. Quinn, Robert A. Sharkey, George Sandhusen and Henry L. Palmer.

OFFICERS OF THE NEW-ENGLAND SOCIETY. The directors of the New-England Society, of Brook lyn, met to elect officers yesterday afternoon in the office of Surrogate Abbott in the Court House. Judge Calvin E. Pratt declined to serve again as president. The following officers were chosen: President, Robert D. Benedict; vice-president, General Henry W. slocum and George H. Fisher; treasurer, Franklin W. Hooper; recording secretary, Thomas S. Moore; cor-responding secretary, William H. Williams; historiographer, W. A. Bardwell; librarian, D. L. Northap.

MISSIONARIES TELL OF THEIR WORK.

The thirty-second anniversary of the Women's Union Missionary Society was observed yesterday otternoon at the Church of the Pligrims. Mrs. Henry Schnson is president, and Miss S. E. Doremus is the corresponding secretary. Mrs. Holcombe, of India, made an address on the missions established in Calculate. cutta, Allahabad and Cawapore, and on the atrocities practiced upon Indian women. She said that the carnest work of the missionaries had affected the marriage custom. So zealously had they argued with the authorities that the customary age of marriage was now ten and twelve, instead of six and eight years. The address of the Rev. Dr. Francis II. Pott, of China, was extremely interesting. Speeches were made also by Mrs. Biddulph and Mrs. Colles.

WHERE IS MRS. MUNIER? Mrs. Charlotte Munier, the wife of Charles Munier,

ir., superintendent of the clothing establishment of John S. McKeon, Bedford-ave. and Broadway. has been missing from his home, No. Harrison-ave., since Monday, Mrs. Munier's sudden departure is wrapped in much mystery. It was not until yesterday that her disappear ance was made public, when Mr. Munier inserted an advertisement in one of the Brooklyn papers, warning the public that he would not be responsible for debts contracted by her. When Mrs. Munier left her husband she took with her their two young children, Frank and Eugene. No reason can be assigned for the woman's sudden flight. Mr. Munier knew nothing about it until he returned to his home on Monday night and found the apartments stripped of the valuable ornaments and furniture. On the mantiepiece was a note written by Mrs. Munier to her husband, saying that she had gone to Houston, Tex. The husband is unable to give any explanation other than that she could not bear to be parted from her sister Anne, the wife of Dr. Andrew O'Malley. Annie was married about five years ago, and the relations between the two families were of a most intimate character Four weeks ago Dr. O'Malley went South for his health, and was followed a week later by his wife Mrs. Munier became melancholy after her sister's departure and expressed a wish that she could join her. According to the neighbors Mrs. Munier sold most of the furniture on the day of her departure.

IN AID OF THE HEBREW ORPHAN ASYLUM. The annual ball in ald of the Hebrew Orphan Asyhm of Brooklyn, was given in the Academy of Music tast evening and was attended by many persons Among those invited were Monsignor Satolli, the Rev Dr. McGlynn, who spoke at the recent opening of the new building for the asylum. Mayor Boody and many other prominent citizens were present. The fundrealized from the ball will go toward paying off the debt of $75,000 upon the new asylum building.

GATHERED ABOUT THE TOWN.

Five amateur dramatic societies will give a benefit performance at the Criterion Theatre on Saturday evening, in aid of William J. Moran, one of their popular associates, who for several weeks has been a sufferer in the hospital with inflammatory rheumatism It was not until the attention of Mayor Boody was called to it yesterday afternoon by a reporter that the flags on the City Hall were put at half-mast for ex-President Hayes. A number of threatening letters have been sent to the Sunday-school teachers of the Plymouth Bethel, in Hicks-st., of which the Rev. Howard S. Bilss has charge, and to the junitor of the building. Some of them suggest that the janitor should be discharged, and threaten dire evils if this is not done. It is believed that some crank who wants the janltor's place has written or instigated the letters. The Rev Mr. Bliss and Charles N. Judson have consulted with Postmaster Collins in regard to means for detect ing the writer. Mr. Bliss had received postal-cards containing statements calculated to injure the janitor and demanding his discharge. Some of the teacher, are nervous about the letters.

The new Union Bank will open its doors, at Fifthave. and Union-st., about March 1. Ex-Senator Stephen M. Griswold will be the president. The cap-

Henry O'Nell, a carpenter and builder of No. 128 Barbey-st., attempted suicide yesterday morning by shooting himself while in bed. He had been depressed by the death of his wife and by business troubles He was formerly successful in business, but recently built a number of houses which he was unable to rent. He said yesterday that he had a dozen notes to meet at noon and could not meet them. He will probably recover.

The salary of Charles Pelletreau, general brokkeeper and accountant in the City Works Department, was Increased from $2,500 to $3,000 yesterday.

Goysa S. Perhaes, a Hungarian artist, recovered $200 in the Supreme Court yesterday in his suit against Robert Jones, a wealthy carriage manufacturer, to recover $500 for a painting representing Mr. Jones in the act of flushing a covey of Long Island partridg s. Mr. Jones said the picture did not do justice to himself or to his dogs, but the artist proved the merit of
